THE FLOWER AND THE BEE

To Ms. Nixon,
my kindergarten teacher
Because you love honeybees. 🐝

To Daddy,
Thank you for helping me with making this book.

To Mumma,
Without you there is no me.

To Sachi,
You are the best little sister in the world.

Once a upon a time there was a flower and a bee.

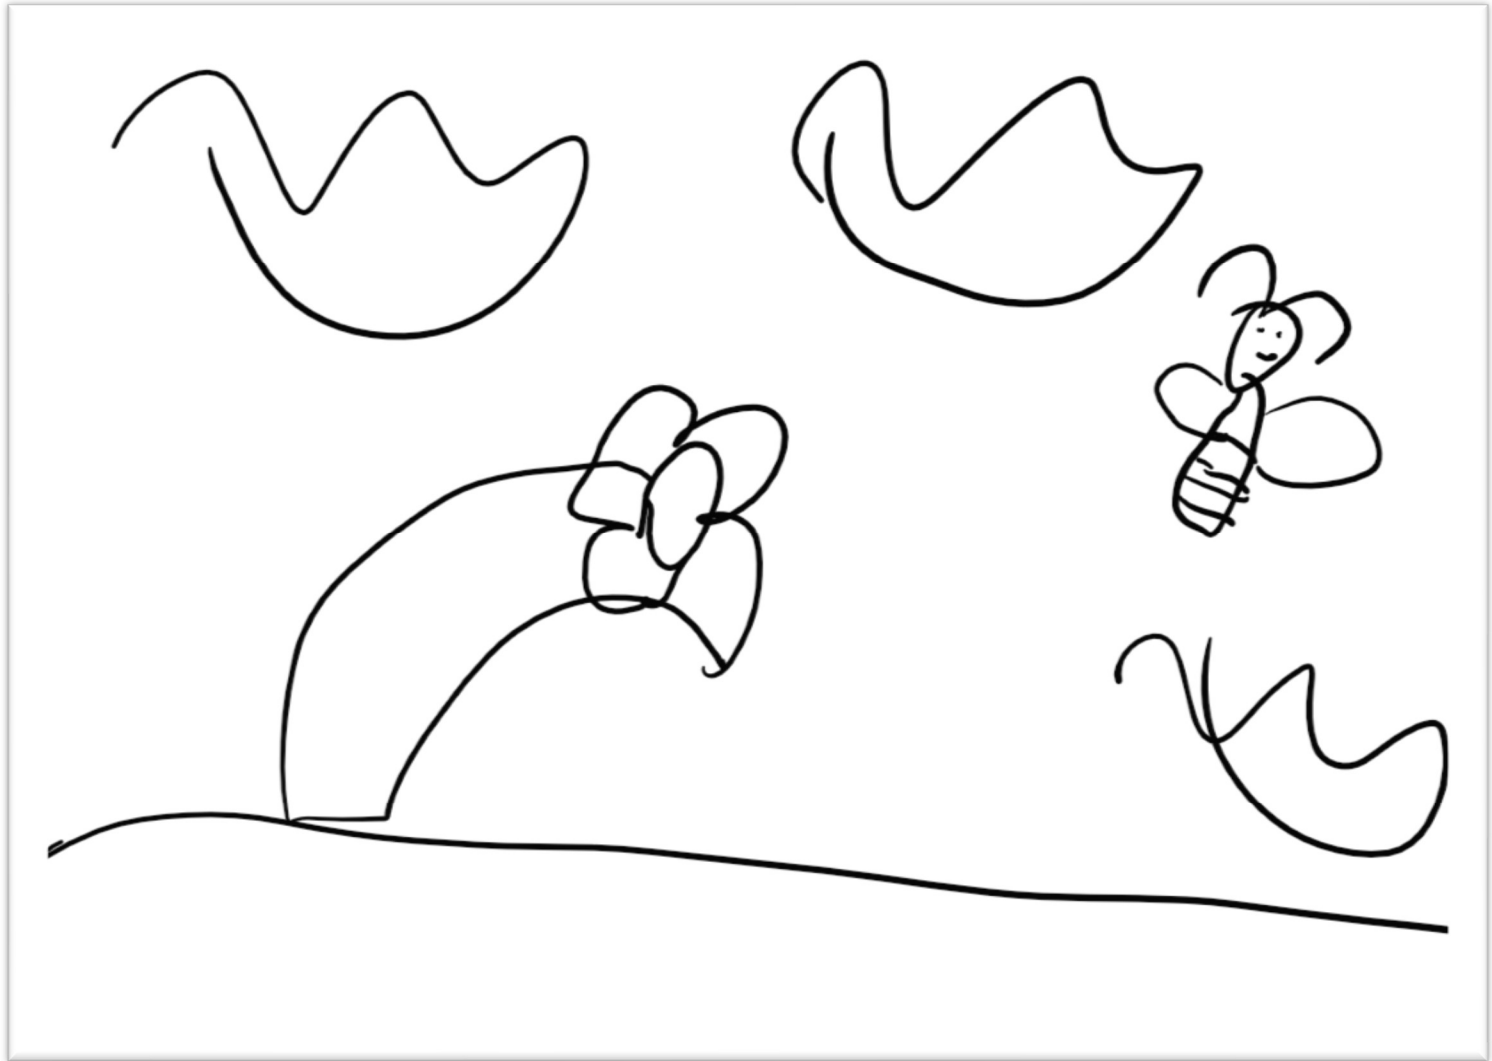

The bee sucked the nectar off the flower.

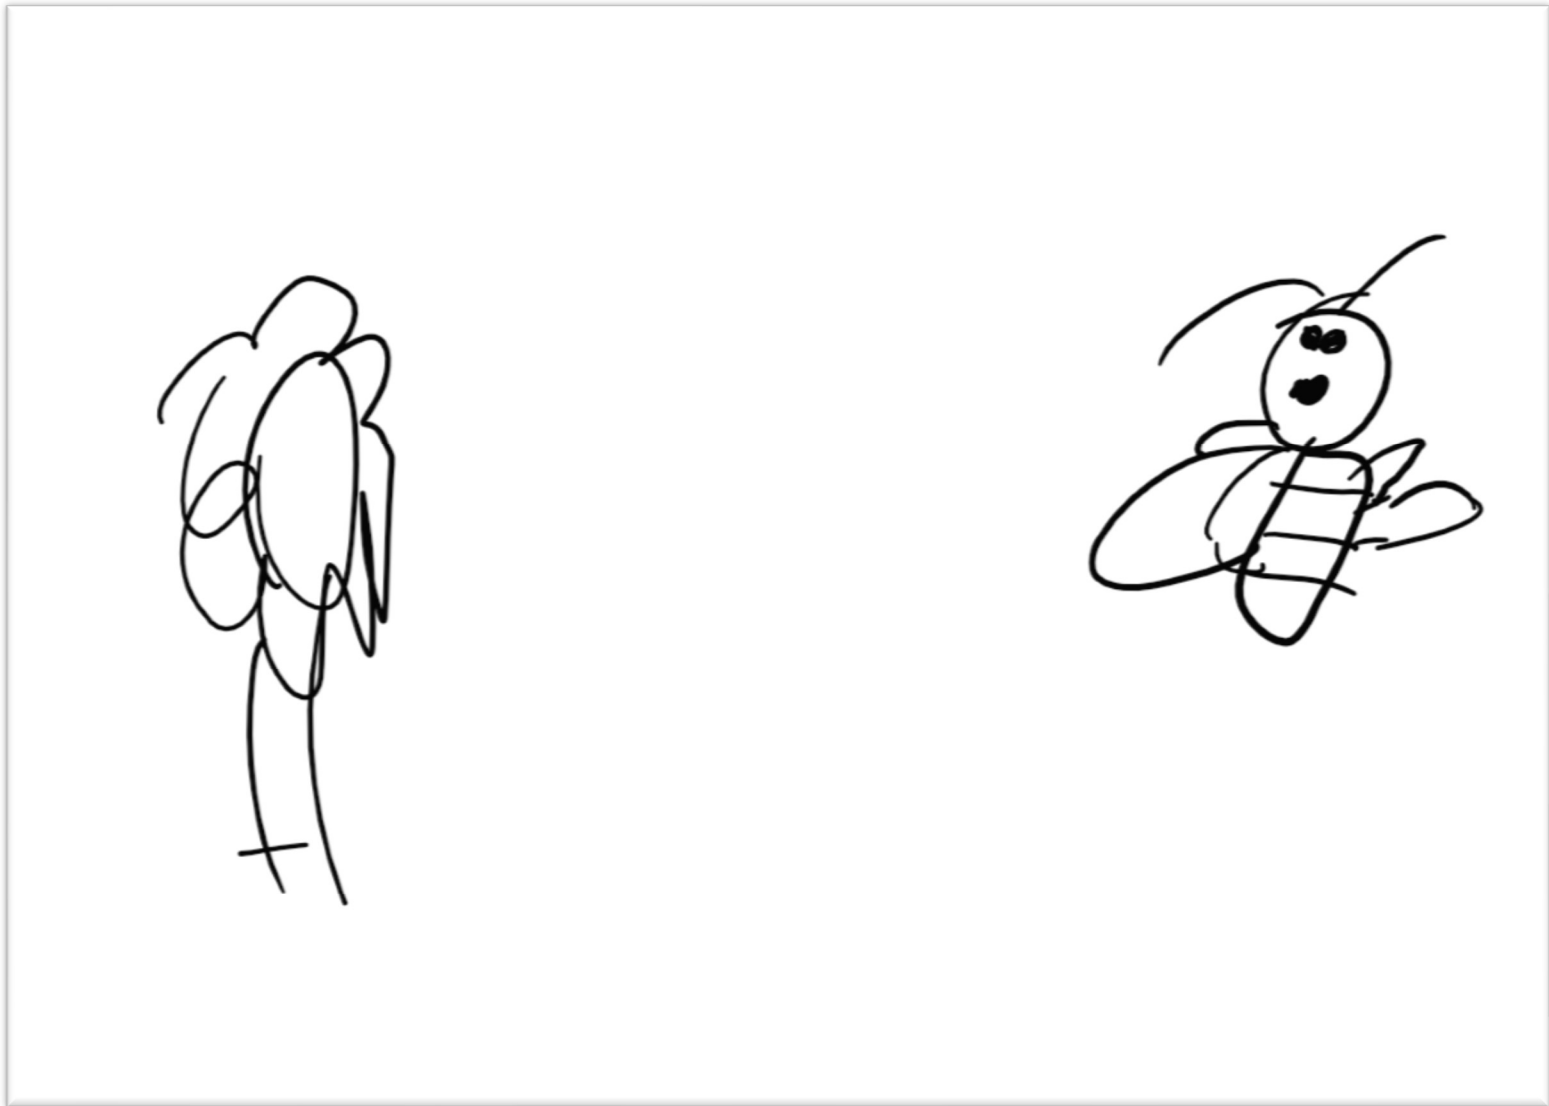

The bee went away so the flower told the bee to come back.

The flower told the bee that it makes him feel bad.

So, the bee told the flower that it is because of him going, flower to flower,

Makes more flowers and it is the right thing to do.

This made the flower smile.

THE END.

This book is about a flower and a bee.

If you like it, please share with others.

Honeybees are very special, and they help the plant make more flowers when they fly from one to another.
